

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

New Telecourse from Keri Murphy of Inspired Living to Launch September 20th
"How to Bring Your Dreams to Life: 4 Steps to Creating and Living a Life of Passion"
debuting live

Los Angeles – September 13, 2011 – TV host, inspirational speaker and dream catcher Keri Murphy of Inspired Living is launching an all-new 5-part telecourse beginning Tuesday September 20th at 5pm PDT. She is bringing together all her coaching secrets that she has used to help so many achieve the life they love and is making it available to everyone. This course is affordable, easily accessible and a great alternative to traditional one-on-one coaching.

The cost is $297 for this 5-part series and includes 4 live telecourse calls, 1 bonus live Q&A where Keri will field questions from participants, handouts, MP3 recordings of all 5 calls, and printable transcripts. Because of quick access to the MP3 recordings, participants that are not able to attend the live calls are still able to participate in the series and can listen to the recordings as fits their own schedule. Register at www.kerimurphy.com/telecourse.

"How to Bring Your Dreams to Life" will help participants identify and clarify their passion, get in the right mindset to bring about lasting positive change, and evaluate their current path to find what's working and what's not. Keri will share the tools that will enable them to leave behind fear and doubt and create a solid plan of action in order to see results.

"The road I've travelled to live my life to my highest and best use has not always been easy. I literally started my life over in my 30's, leaving behind my business, my home and everything that was comfortable and secure to me," said Murphy. "But based on a plan and dedicated hard work, I was able to arrive at the place where I knew I was destined to be, leading and teaching others how to Dream, Live and Be all that is possible. Through my new telecourse, you too will learn the tools to bridge the gap from having a dream and making it reality."
